Says the Quin Scheme Has Falled-Declares That Hanlon Has Legally Leased the Bal-imore Grounds—Accuses McGraw of Withholding Contracts From the Club. C. H. Ebbets, president of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, who has been conferring with Hanlon and Von der Horst at Baltimore and John I. Rogers at Philadelphia during the past three days, returned home yesterday and made a detailed statement regarding the situation to a reporter of THE SUN. Ebbets was in the act of signing Pitcher Kennedy to a Brooklyn contract when the reporter met him. He said that he had signed in all nine members of the champion team, but refused to give any names, saying that secrecy would be maintained until all had been

"We are signing our players without much trouble," said the Brooklyn president, and so are all of the other League clubs. To my knowledge Pittsburg, Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati have induced all of their old players to sign. Brooklyn has not made an attempt to gather in the champions until this week. Philadelphia believes that the option clause in the League contract holds good and th tit is unnecessary to ask the players to sign formally. I think when the that the League has got all the stars. The players know that their salaries are sure in the League, whereas in a rival organization, such as the As sociation, they might not receive what should be

"A number of players well remember the experience they had during the Brotherhood war of 1890, when the backers of the rival leagues lost upward of $1,000,000. They also know that the Association, which has been trying to organize at Philadelphia this week, has no backers like the men who put the Brotherhood on strong financial legs. E. B. Talcott, E. A. McAlpin, C. Van Cott, Gen. Jourdan, the Chaunceys, C. A. Prince, the Wagners, W. W. Kerr, Phil Auten, Armour, Aibert L. Johnson, John Addison and F. B. Robinson were a solid lot compared to the so-called backers of the Philadelphia movement, and yet they could not beat the National League. Players know this and also the fact that since the Brotherhood revolt salaries have taken a big drop It was only last year that they began to go up, the Brooklyn Club paying out $50,000 for the services of the

The League considers the Association movement a dead letter now. Inability to get backing at Philadelphia and New York has killed it. The withdrawal of Providence is another blow, and it will not be at all surprising if the official announcement of a disbandment is not promulgated in a few days. The League has looked over the ground carefully and is ready to fight for its rights. It has the money, experience, brains and the

It has the money experience, brains and the players. It is ready to organize an association circuit of its own, if necessary, and conflict with Quin's circuit if he decides to take a chance. If the backers of the latter want to lose their coin, we are prepared to accommodate them. But we feel quite sure that they will not go on with the venture, now that they appreciate the exact condition of affairs.

"So far as the situation at Baltimore is concerned, we are not worrying for the reason that we know exactly where we stand. We can prove he owners of the property, and a contract by letter is legal and we can prove beyond the question of doubt that we leased Union Park through the medium of a letter sent by Hanlon on Jan. 22 to the owners of the property. But that is a side issue. Hanlon and Vonder Horst have been traited unfairly by persons who called themselves their friends McGraw, not contented with trying to deprive the Baltimore club. The contracts do not belong to more club. The contracts do not belong to that we cannot prosecute the players less tyear and refuses to hand them over to the Baltimore club. The contracts do not belong to that we cannot prosecute the players for jumping the 'option clause.' Hanlon, as president.

Manager M. E. De La Mater of the Prich of the dual meet with Lehigh University. The contest will be held in the "gymn" at University Heights, on the evening of March 9, and the team wining the greatest number of points will receive a handsome silk banner. The events will be herizontal bars, parallel bars, club swinging, side horse, high jump, fiving rings, such later of the fund. The contest will be herizontal bars parallel bars, club swinging, side horse, high jump, fiving rings, sumbling and fence vault. The points will be severed by the regular system of 5 for a first, 3 for a second and 1 for a third. The candidates will receive a handsome silk banner. The content will be herizontal bars, parallel bars, club swinging, and fence vault. The contest will be herizontal bars parallel b McGraw, but he wisnes to without them from us so that we cannot prosecute the players for jump-ing the option clause. Hanlon, as president of the Baltimore club, has requested McGraw time and again to surrender the contracts which are the property of the club, but he has steadily re-

"McGraw has been well treated by the Baltimore Club. He has received every dollar that the club has agreed to pay him. The men who have aided McGraw in this new movement have been played for good things and do not know it. Von der Horst and Hanion have been opposed to the plan to reduce the League circuit by the dropping of Baltimore and other cities, but they have received no credit for it. The Brooklyn-Baltimore awardicate has lived up to every legal and moral. syndicate has lived up to every legal and moral requirement. It has paid salaries, overlooked offences by the players that deserved discipline requirement. It has paid salaries, overlooked offences by the players that deserved discipline and has been opposed to oppression. I hardly believe that when the people of Baltimore have cooled down they will sanction the treatment accorded to Hanlon and Von der Horst, the men who, by their pluck and gameness, brought three League pennants to that city and developed players who are noted all over the country.

"When the Association bubble has been completely exploded, the League Circuit Committee will resume business. It it is decided to drop Baltimore from the circuit, it will be time enough then for us to have an inning, and so far as we are concerned McGraw can do as he pleases. I understand that Quin is thinking of abandoning the East and forming a circuit in the West to comprise Chicago, Miwaukee, Detroit, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Louisville and Cieveland. If he makes a move of that sort, where does he expect to get players? Surely not from the National League, for men who can play in the big circuit will not voluntarily drop into a minor league. I feel quite sure that such a move would be a failure, in as much as the players and public support would be lacking. I have not received any immation when the League will hold a meeting, but I should judge that it will not be very long. Robison is sull at Baltimore with Hallon and Von der Horst." I have not received any intimation when the League will hold a meeting, but I should judge that it will not be very long. Robison is still at Baltimore with Hanlon and Von der Horst."

Brush, chairman of the Circuit Committee, has sent out a statement that is amusing. In it he admits that the committee met recently at Cleveland, which contradicts his statement made at the time that no meeting had been held. Brush throws a few bouquets at the League, and winds up by saying that the magnates have the interests of baseball and not their pockets at heart. Several of the magnates, by the way, say that the way they have been held up to ridicule by the newspapers has been the direct cause of this Association been need up to findicule by the newspapers has been the direct cause of this Association movement. They say they have been misrepresented, especially in the matter of fostering rowdysm on the field. But they have evidently forgotten the written agreement which all of them signed at St. Louis two years ago to purify the sport, and which was promptly violated by the majority of them as soon as the umpires made a few close decisions against their teams.

By turning over a new leaf, by dropping trickery and secrecy, by coming out into the open in re-sponse to the public demand and by adopting methods from which sandbagging is eliminated, the League may receive a chance to win back the confidence of the public. But under the present circumstances they must be blamed for the down-fall of the national game.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3 .- So far as the local end is concerned the proposed American Assoit has been at any time since its delegates convened here on Tuesday last. President Porter nounced that he would let the local backers have the extensive grounds attached to his park and the extensive grounds attached to his park and that, furthermore, he would try to arrange with the Board of Directors a scheme by which the prospective spectators of the games to be played by the new club would not have to pay the excess car fare. Though the location of Woodside Park is not altogether what it should be for breschall purposes, it is thought that its many other attractions may offset its geographical disadvantages.

Whether Mr. George Reger will identify himself with this movement is doubtful. He think the location too remote to attract the great arm of cranks. He declares that he has in view ground which in point of accessibility is secondly to the "Phillies" ground, and that he will be a second the control of th be able to show the requisite capital on Monday afternoon.

Langford, Yale's Former Stroke, Badly In-

According to a report received at St. Paul. Minn., George Langford, formerly of that city, and well known in college athletic circles in and well known in college athletic circles in the East, had his left arm crushed by being drawn into two revolving cog wheels in the rolling mills of the McKenna Steel Company at Joliet. III. Langford, who was a Yale man, was stroke of that crew in 1835. When the University sent an eight to England to compete in the Henley races in 1838, he was one of the first men selected. Langford's arm was so hadly crushed, it is said, that it had to be amputated close to the shoulder.

New England Oarsmen at Odds.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.-The New England Amateur Rowing Association will hold its annual meeting next Wednesday. It is reported that an effort will be made to denose President Walter Stimpson. The movers are said to be the same powers in amateur athletics that recently attempted to deprive John Graham of his position of handleapper. Stimpson's supporters have received word of the scheme, and the meeting promises to be a lively one. COLUMBIA'S SPORTS.

Dr. Peet Describes the Stroke to Be Used by the Crews This Year.

The Columbia University crews have passed through the period of preliminary training and are now at work on the rowing machines, mastering the details of the stroke to be used this year. This is what Dr. Walter B. Peet said about the stroke yesterday: "The reach will be considerably longer toword the stern than that used last year. The hard catch which tended to pull the boat out of the water will be abandoned, but the latter will be taken firmly and the our pulled steadily to the end of the stroke through a hard leg drive. A hard shoulder lunge without too much jerk will constitute the quick snap-up on the re-covery, and this will be followed by a slowing down toward the end of the recovery to prevent the shell from hanging between strokes and losing its impetus. The whole stroke will be more level, that is, the angle of the catch will be more decided than heretofore and the feather will not be carried as long. The slides will be started quickly on the recovery and will be slowed down gradually. This in general will be our stroke for 1900." The freshmen and the new men for the class crews have found much difficulty in mastering the new stroke, and Dr. Peet has divided the candidates into squads, each of which contains several former 'varsity oarsmen to help in the Columbia will race Annapolis again this year and will enter a crew in the senior eight of the Harlem Regatta on Decoration Day. On the same day the second crew will row Harvard University. Pennsylvania and Corneil on the Schuvikill River. This will be the first Columbia crew to row at Philadeiphia.

Two hundred and twenty-five men are now working under Capt. Smith of the track team. Maicolm Ford will take charge of the broad jumpers; C. U. Powell, the Corneil crack, will coach the bigh jumpers; Trainer Mack will handle the runners, and it is hoped that R. G. Clapp, the holder of the world's record for the pole vault, will be able to help the vaulters. It is feared that Columbia may have to withdraw from the Knickerbocker A. C.'s relay race as H. A. Johnson and J. A. McAnerney, two members of the team, are ill and cannot well be replaced. All energy is being turned to the indoor carnival to be held by the team on March 17. C. F. Jellinghaus, 1901, medicine, former captain of the C. C. N. Y. track men, who competed for several years in the University of Pennsylvania relay races, will captain the team from the college of physicians and surgeons, which will meet the law school team, captained by S. L. Josephthal, the old one-mile waiker. The track team has been strengthened by the appearance of H. H. Weekes, the 'varsity football full back.

The chess club has received a challenge from Princeton for a team match, eight men on a side to be played in this city this month. Only men eligible for the intercollegiate tournament will be allowed to play. Columbia wants the teams to consist of six men. Matches with Hamilton Institute, the Newark Academy and 'Poly, Prep', scheduled by the freshmen chess club, has been postponed until later dates can be agreed upon on account of the university mid-year examinations.

Manager M. E. De La Mater of the N. Y. U. gymnastic team announces that arrangements and the team winning the greatest number of points will receive a handsome silk banner. The events will be horizontal bars, parallel bars, club awinging, side horse, high lump, flying rings, tumbling and fence vault. The points will be secred by the regular system of 5 for a first, 3 for a second and 1 for a third. The candidates will resume work on Monday. Capt Belcher has not as yet picked the team.

The committee appointed by the Association to make arrangements for a dual league with Rutgers College received word from the Rutgers A. A. last week stating that a committee had been appointed and that arrangements had been made for a meeting of the two committees.

The third of the preliminary contests for the Banks cups will be beld on Thursday next in the gymnasium, and the events will be high jump, shot-put and quarter-mile run.

On Tuesday afternoon the trials for the relay team which is to be entered in the Knickerbocker A. C. games on Feb. 10, will be held in the gymnasium. The team will probably be made up of A. L. Denchfield, S. S. Jones, G. M. Trede and R. J. Reese. A. L. Denchfield, S. S. Jones, G. M. Trede and W. F. Irwin have been entered in the Ninth Regiment games this month.

The bassball candidates will commence regular work to-morrow afternoon in the "gym." The cage has been placed in position on the bassment floor and will accommodate six men at a time.

Spike Sullivan's Engagements in the Ring. Should Spike Sullivan defeat Joe Gans on next Friday night he will have his hands full meeting ambitious rivals. As a starter Spike has signed to fight George McFadden at the Broadpounds, on Feb. 20. This is the night on which George Dixon will have a benefit. Nearly $5,000 has been subscribed for the ex-cham-$5,000 has been subscribed for the ex-champion. Sullivan originally agreed to meet McFadden, the entire receipts to go to Dixon, but Tom O'Rourke would not consent to this as he thought the buckers should receive some compensation for their work. A liberal offer has also been made to Spike to go to England and meet Johnny Hughes, the champion lightweight of that country on Derby night at the National Sporting Club. The date has been left open owin't te the fact that the McGovern-Jordan battle fell through. Spike will n t want anything in the way of backing for he has a great admirer in Fred Blackburn, the English sport, who was here last September to witness the McGovern-Falmer contest. Blackburn says ne will back Sullivan for any amount against any one he fights in England. Spike is now training at Sheepshead Bay. Spike is now training at Sheepshead Bay

Haughton Will Coach Cornell's Football Men Again.

ITRACA, Feb. 3.-It has been definitely decided that Haughton is to be retained as coach for Cornell's football team next season. It was for Cornell's footbait team next season. It was generally expected that he would be the man, but it was not positively known until noon today, when Manager Porter announced the fact that Haughton had been engaged. The schedule is nearly completed. It is about the same as last year, with the exception of the Chicago game. Cornell onuting this because the trip was too hard on the men. It has been decided to have no preliminary practice for the candidates until collega opens in September. The faculty will require that athletes behind in their studies will not be allowed to go with athletic teams to out-of-town games.

Boston, Feb. 3.-Beginning next Monday the American amateur racquet championship will be contested at the B. A. A. The chamwill be contested at the B. A. A. The championship in doubles will tegin Monday, Feb. 12. The entries for the tourney in singles are; Q. A. Shaw, Jr., A. Potter and Pavne Whitney, B. A. A.; C. H. Mackey and W. B. Dinsmore, Racquet and Tenuss Cub of New York; Eustace H. Miles, Tuxedo Club, and F. F. Rolland and T. S. Gillespie, Montreal Racquet Club. The Montreal players have arrived and are practicing in the B. A. A. court, Shaw won the championship last year, but was beaten by Rolland in Montreal later for the Canadian championship.

DIPLOMA FOR PILLSBURY. The Vienna Chess Club Honors the Ameri can Champion. H. N. Pillsbury, the American champion, is still touring in the West, the latest report locating him at St. Paul. He has been giving exhibitions steadily for the past month and his list of engagements are understood to be full up to March 18. After that he is expected to make a flying trip East in order to partieipate in the international cable chess match with Great Britain at Brooklyn. Yesterday the Brooklyn Chess Club received a handsomely engraved diploma for the champion from the committee of the Vienna Chess Club, which managed the international tournament of 1898, held in honor of the Austrian Emperor's jubiles. The diploma, which is richly ornamented and is a fine specimen of the engraver's art, bears the following inscription:

Vienna Chess Club-Diploma for Mr. Harry Nelson Pillsbury, Emperor's Jubiles International Chess Tournament, Vienna, 1898. Second prize, Vienna, July 31, 1898. For the Tournament Committee, Leopold Trebitsch. Leopoid Trebitson.

The diploma has been framed and will be placed on exhibition in the rooms of the Brooklyn club until Philisbury's return. While at Toledo, Philisbury gave a blindfold exhibition on eight boards. On one he contested the following brilliant game, in which he brings out a pretty sacrifice of his queen:

Advices from St. Petersburg state that another national tournament of importance was begun there on Jan. 9. M. I. Tschigorin, the Russian champion, heads the list of entries, which also includes the following players: A. A. Lewin, S. F. Lebedew, N. S. Tabuntschikoff, J. A. Sybon, F. J. Schapski, M. A. Schabelski, H. Seyboth, Dertolitsch and "N. N." Tschigorin, Lewin, Letedow participated in the recent Moscow tournament, won by Tschigorin, while Tabuntschikoff will be remembered as a competitor in the London International minor tournament, which was won by the Brooklyn player, Marshall. A notable absente is E. Schiffers, second prize winner at Moscow, who has since been placed in an asylum. There are five prizes. It is a two-round affair contested at a time limit of twenty noves to the hour. The results of the first two rounds follow:

Julius Finn, the clever blindfold player of the Cosmopolitan Chess Club, figured in a seauce on last Sunday at the rooms of the Newark Turnverein Chess Club, It was at first intended to pit him against eight players, but only six presented themselves. The young expert was in splendid form and emerged from the ordeal with the good record of four games won and two drawn. His opponents were W. Kyte, H. Schleckser, J. Baum, N. Davidson, C. Benner and Hugo Geppert. Schleckser and Geppert drew their games.

At a recent meeting of Long Island chess players, held at Jamaica, the Queen's County Chess Club was organized and will hereafter hold reunions every Tuesday, beginning this week. The Governing Committee is made up of C. S. Taber, H. L. Norton and H. Cleveland. Applications for membership from resident and non-resident players should be addressed to H. LAST OF THE POULTRY SHOW. The Exhibit Was the Most Successful Eve Held in New York.

The poultry show which has been visited b crowds during the past five days at Madiso. Square Garden closed at 10:30 o'clock last nigh Of the eleven annual exhibits this one has been the most successful financially, as well as in point of attendance. It has been the only one on which the weather has smiled kindly, all the previous shows having been visited by rain, sleet, blizzards and snow. As the closing hour drew near there was a rush by the exhibitors for the cages containing their birds. The streets surrounding the Garden were lined with express wagons and in an incredibly short time the exhibits were placed in single cages, hurried to the wagons and driven to the various railroad

Several of the express companies had provided special cars which were attached to passenger trains leaving at mid-night. Before that hour three-quarters of the cages in the Garden were empty, and by to-night there will not be a single feathered visitor in the vast arena. There may, however, be a 'possum in the Garden. One of these animals was brought in when the show opened, but he escaped on Friday night. He scampered down into the catacombs under the main floor and diligent search has failed to drive him out. When the fact that there was a 'possom at large became known there was a panic among the exhibitors of poultry. Some of them remained up all night guarding their prize winners for fear that the representative of the chickens' ancient enemy should make an enslaught among the exhibitors had nothing to do yesterday but display their entries, swap breeds and tell what they would do at the next show.

The Barb and Carrier Club of America met at the Garden last night and elected these officers: D. E. Newell of Philadelphia, President; R. Sweisfasth, Second Vice-President; W. W. White of Philadelphia, First Vice-President; R. Sweisfasth, Second Vice-President; W. W. White of Philadelphia, Secretary.

It was really the debut of the Second Battalion at hockey and the game was arranged partly for practice. It was not expected that the game would be a close one and so the score was not surprising. Princeton, Feb. 3.—The Princeton University hockey team defeated Lawrenceville at the rink at the preparatory school this afternoon by a score of 4 goals to 1. The younsters put up a plucky flight, but could do nothing against the speed of Princeton's forwards. Lawrenceville's goal was the result of a mistake made by Poe of Princeton, who in a mixup shot the puck between the goal posts of his own side. Three goals were made in the first half by Princeton and one in the second. The team here has been handicapped most of the season on account of having no suitable place to practice and for this reason has been defeated in all the important contests. The players during the past week have taken adfeated in all the important contests. The players during the past week have taken advantage of the splendid condition of the ice at Stony Brook and strenuous efforts have been made to get the men into the best of form for the games which will be played in New York later in the season.

Ice Yacht Georgie Wins on the North

North Shrewsbury River Ice Yacht Club raced to-day for silver prizes given by Vice Commoto-day for silver prizes given by Vice Commodore Charles D Warner. They were Charles Irwin's Georgie, Thomas Daniel's Vixen, Jacob Cornwell's Aurora, Samuel W. Morford's Flaw, Charles Burd's Zip, Daniel Asay's Zero and Edward Asay's Daisy. The triangular ten-mile course was sailed in a nice westerly breeze. The Georgie won easily, her time being 25 minutes. The Zip was second and Vixen third. The last named is the Burlington Club yacht, and she sailed to-day rigged with jib and mainsail instead of lateen sail as formerly.

A GENERAL GOLF LINKS.

MEADOW BROOK MAY BECOME THE M. G. A. CHAMPIONSHIP COURSE. The Project Discussed After the Annual

Meeting at the Metropolitan Club-Ex-ecutive Committee to Investigate the Plan-Records of Contests Yesterday. An important move was made in the plan to have a course in the M. G. A. district reserved for the purpose of holding championship tournaments and other important matches at the supper which followed the annual meeting on Thursday night at the Metropolitan club. It was suggested that the Meadow Brook club should turn over its course and golf house to the M. G. A. for the purpose indicated, and. as the club delegate, O. W. Bird, seemed to think the project a feasible one, the Executive Committee of the M. G. A. will submit it to each of the forty-four clubs for a decision. Should the trend of opinion be favorable, the association will assume the maintenance of the links and the house, and such changes as may be necessary will be started at once About three thousand yards in playing length. the nine-hole course at Meadow Brook is one of the oldest and the least costly to keep in condition of any in the East. It is a natural golfing ground, like that at Garden City, which is also on Hempstead Plains and only three miles away. The Meadow Brook links can be extended to eighteen holes at only little expense for there is no lack of available land, and the turf is so good that very little seeding or sodding will be required. A rule of the Meadow Brook club permits a special golf membership, which will simplify the matter should the club allow its links to become the official M. G. A. course. R. H. Williams of the Morris County Golf Club was one of the strongest upholders of the plan. In view of the growing rejuctance with which the members of the M. G. A. clubs seemed to regard the holding of the amateur championship, if for no other reason, he thought the

to regard the holding of the amateur championship, if for no other reason, he thought the idea a good one, for besides being used for the M. G. A. championship and for all important matches, the course could be loaned to the U. S. G. A. for any fournamen's it might wish to hold. Once established in New York, "official" links would spring up with similar golfing unions near other cities, and in time all the U. S. G. A. championships would be decided on such courses, thus relieving the clubs from any personal trouble and without closing any of the links to the members who belonged strictly to the non-tournament class.

The value of the Meadow Brook course for this purpose was upheld by iff B. Hollins, Sr., of Westbrook, and others, Mr. Hollins thought that the Long Island Railrond would cooperate by running its trains on a schedule to suit the golfers, or by stopping at a station that might be put up at the most accessible location. In his opinion the course might readily be converted into one of the best golfing centres in the world, so that the records made there would have a definite merit in flying the class of a golfer both here and in Great Britain. A number of other golfers spoke in warm indersement of the plan. The project may become an established fact before the M. G. A. championship is held in the spring, but it will not affect the choice of the Nassau course for this season's tournament.

Sr. Augusting, Feb. 3.—Another Florida Cup has gone to R. C. Watson, Jr., the last being the President's prize played for in the two days' tournament here yesterday and to-day His oppount in the finals this afternoon was Joseph P. Greaves, who is playing very good golf, having reduced his game 20 points since the season opened. In the semi-finals Greaves played Clavton Dixon and beat him one up. On the first hole to-day Watson drove a clean ball and lay about ten feet from the green. Greaves pulled his ball and getting into trouble lost the hole 4 to 6. Watson drove wild on the second. Finding the ball unplayable he gave up the hole. On the third Greaves won, 4 to 5, with score one up. Both played perfect golf on the fourth and a half was the result. Watson won the fifth by a long ball and a cleek shot that put him on the green. This made the cards even again. Watson reached the sixth green by a good drive and a midiron shot. He won this hole and the next fell to him, making him two up. By perfect play on the eighth both reached the green with a drive and a half mashie, but Greaves lost the hole. 4 to 5. Watson, 3 up. Both reached the ninth green on the second shots, the hole going to Watson, Greaves's mashie work put him two feet from the cup on the tenth hole, which he won, 3 to 5. The eleventh went to Watson. He succeeded in placing a long midiron shot nearly dead to the hole and won out, 4 to 6. Both made good drives for the twelfth, but by laying his approach dead. Greaves won, 3 to 5. Greaves then got a long drive from the rower, but Watson topped his ball and it found a resting place in the mud. By good recovery with the cleek he landed on the green and halved the he 4 to 4. His approach adopting won the fourteenth, and the score stood dormie four. On the fifteenth Greaves was unfortunate in topping his drive and also a blassie shot. It cost him two more to get out. Watson won the best medal score of each was made in the morning. Watson played H. P. Dixon in the semifinals, beating him & up and 6 to go; ST. AUGUSTINE, Feb. 3. - Another Florida Cup

John Milsson Makes New World's Records at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Feb. 3. - Two world's records were broken at the twelfth annual race meeting of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, which was held on the M. A. A. A. grounds this afternoon. In the two mile professional unpaced race John Nilsson of Minneapolis lowered the world's record of 5 minutes 51 seconds, which was held by himself, to 5 minutes 33 4-5 seconds, and he also reduced the world's record in the three mile professional, from 8 minutes 48 2-5 seconds the only other contestant in the professional events, but he was not in it with Nilsson. In the two mile professional Nilsson started at a tremendous pace and kept it up to the end, finishing nearly pace and kept it up to the end, finishing nearly three-quarters of a lap ahead of Baptle. Nilsson also had it all his own way in the three mile professional. Nilsson also won the one-mile professional in 2 minutes 43 3-5 seconds.

The amateur events of interest on the card were the 220 yards, the 880 yards, one mile, three miles and five miles. America was represented by E. A. Thomas and F. D. Gibb of Newburgh, N. Y. Thomas wan the three mile contest in 9 minutes.

E. A. Thomas and F. D. Gibb of Newburgh, N. Y. Thomas wan the three mile contest in 9 minutes 22 seconds, defeating James Drury, the Canadian champion, who was a close second. Drury won the one mile in 3 minutes, defeating Gibb and Thomas. The five-mile race was won by F. D. Gibb in 16 minutes 17 seconds, with Thomas second. Drury, who also started, dropped out owing to an accident to his skate. In the 220 yards Fred Robson of Toronto finiahed ahead of Gibb and Thomas. Time, 21 seconds.

Orange Lake Ice Yachtsmen Enjoy Good

Ice yachtsmen have had four weeks of the lest sport they have ever experienced on Orange Lake. A few of them came to town yesterday and they declare that the ice never was in better condition than it was in January. Snow fell last week and forced the yachtsmen to stop the sport until a thaw melts the crust of the snow and freezes again. mett the crust of the show and freezes again. In addition to the races for the regular cups and trophies arranged by the Orange Lake Ice Yacht Clubseveral members have offered prizes for special contests. Commodore fi. C. Higginson has given a gold stop watch, Elijah walsh a cup valued at $50, Capt. James O Brich a Waish a cup valued at $50. Capt. James O Brien a silk burges valued at $25. and another member of the club a cup worth $75. Each prize is to be sailed for separately, and each race is to be sailed in heats, best two in three. If the ice should break up before the deciding heats are finished they will go over until next season, the results of the heats this year standing. The yachts that are doing the best work this year are Eligah Walsh's Artic, Commodore H. C. Higgin son's Windward and Cold Wave, the latter leng sailed by Capt. James O'Brien, who is well known in ice yachting circles here and in Canada, and Vice Commodore Willett Kid's Snowdrift.

The field ran closely bunched to the head of the stretch. when Eva Race forged to the front. She was winning easily to within seventy yards of the wire when Jolly Roger, coming from fifth place, caught her and beat her a neck on the post. Freak, second choice in the highweight selling, which opened the day's sport, was the best, and won from start to finish by a length. Buda and the Morris pair, Stripes and Plead, were equal favorites in the two-year-old race. In a driving finish Plead, coming from behind, beat Buda a head on the post. Stripes was third. length away. Donna Rita, the favorite in the one mile and a half selling race, won by a half length in a hard drive from the second choice. Moncreith. Free Lady, the 6 to 5 favorite in the fifth, was kept in the bunch all the way, and failed to show. Race Bud won by two lengths.
